Welcome to the University of Washington’s Family Medicine Residency Network. The Network consists of 17 family medicine residency programs in Washington, Wyoming, Alaska, Montana, and Idaho (WWAMI) providing a variety of training opportunities including serving rural and underserved populations. Each program is autonomous and has a unique character, so prescreening, interview schedules, and the selection process are program distinctive.

The Network recruits residents from all over the country; we hope that after a virtual visit you will come, in person, to the program(s) that interest you.

Thanks for your interest in the Network. We look forward to speaking with you soon. Link to all of the WWAMI residency programs at resnet.fammed.washington.edu.
